Hospital Ratings

100 SafeCare Hospitals dot com

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY, USA, March 18, 2025/SafeCareGroup.com/-- SafeCare magazine follow up on its patients' perspective edition with artificial intelligence assessment of hospitals performance. It does so by paying homage to The SafeCare Group's hospital ratings site 100 SafeCare Hospitals dot come in its March Edition.

Traditionally, hospital ratings have relied on manual data collection, subjective surveys, and limited metrics, which can lead to inconsistencies and delays in assessing healthcare quality.

Today, the healthcare industry is undergoing a transformative shift, driven by advancements in artificial intelligence (AI).

“In 2016, The SafeCare Group recognized that one of the most promising applications of AI is in the evaluation and rating of hospitals.

By leveraging AI, it is now possible to create more accurate, comprehensive hospital ratings that benefit patients, healthcare providers, and policymakers alike,”

Yisrael M. Safeek, MD, MBA
Chairman & CEO,
The SafeCare Group

The cover story Hospital Ratings describes how by leveraging AI, it is now possible to create more accurate, comprehensive hospital ratings, and describes key components of The SafeCare Group hospital ratings

“In 2016, The SafeCare Group recognized that one of the most promising applications of AI is in the evaluation and rating of hospitals,” Yisrael M.
