Measles Outbreak

800 Cases and 10 Outbreaks

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY, USA, April 25, 2025/SafeCareGroup.com/-- In 2025, the United States is facing one of its worst measles outbreaks in decades, with hundreds of cases reported across multiple states. The U.S. has more than double the number of measles cases it saw in all of 2024.

U.S. measles cases topped 800 as of April, 17 2025. Texas is driving the high numbers, with an outbreak centered in West Texas that started nearly three months ago and is up to 597 cases. Two unvaccinated elementary school-aged children died from measles-related illnesses near the epicenter in Texas, and an adult in New Mexico who was not vaccinated died of a measles-related illness.

Other states with active outbreaks - defined as three or more cases - include Indiana, Kansas, Michigan, Oklahoma, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Georgia, New Jersey and New Mexico.

This resurgence of a once nearly eradicated disease was fueled by declining vaccination rates, vaccine misinformation, and pandemic-related healthcare disruptions.

“As of April 17, the CDC confirmed 800 cases and 10 outbreaks of measles in the USA.
